WHAT CAN I COMMENT ON?

You are of course free to comment on the application as you wish. However the Council can only give weight to legitimate planning issues (as defined by the Courts) which commonly include:

- Land Use - is it suitable in the location proposed?
- Traffic - will it give rise to unacceptable levels of traffic? Is the access safe? Is there enough parking?
- Physical characteristics - are the appearance, scale, height and character acceptable?
- Is there potential for loss of light, privacy or overlooking to your property?
- Will the proposal be likely to give rise to additional noise or smells?

Telecommunications Masts - Please note the council is normally only able to consider the proposal on the grounds of siting and appearance. Other issues such as health concerns cannot usually be taken into account.

WHAT HAPPENS NEXT?

Please note that we cannot enter into correspondence on individual applications. If an application is to be reported to Committee and you have commented on it you will be advised of the date time and venue of the meeting. Further details of procedure at Committee will be given in that letter. Committee agendas and minutes can be viewed on our website. Coronavirus update: alternative arrangement for Committee are currently being worked through. These will be publicised once confirmed.

IF I OBJECT, WILL THE APPLICATION BE REFUSED?

Not necessarily. Your views are one important aspect of the many factors that Planning Officers and Councillors take into account when deciding whether to approve or refuse the application. You may wish to contact your local Councillor in respect of a planning matter. Details are available on the council's website and at all Council offices.

The Council's Local Development Framework (LDF) sets out guidance and standards that developments should normally meet to be acceptable. The LDF can only be viewed on our web site at www.haverling.gov.uk/planning at this present time..

CAN I APPEAL AGAINST A COUNCIL PLANNING DECISION?

No. Only the person applying for planning permission has the right of appeal against a planning decision. If an appeal is made everyone that was consulted on the application will be informed. We will pass copies of all comments received on the application to the Planning Inspectorate who deal with appeals.
